EDITORIAL COMMENT

Germany is to melt the bronze statues of her heroes for ammunition purposes.

Gabriele d'Annunzio, Italy's poet-viator, has been wounded when in aerial combat over the Austrian lines.

All the information which the government has on file with respect to atrocities committed by the war lords of Germany will shortly appear in book form under the title, "Atrocities Book."

Reciprocal air raids continue to be carried out by the British, French and German airmen at points far behind the fighting line. German aviators have again dropped bombs on French hospitals, this time in the region of Verdun.

It has come out in the trial of the Russian General Soukhomlinoff for treason that his downfall was due to his wife, a young woman of 25, who left her husband to marry him when he was in prison. Her extravagance, imprudence and speech and lack of loyalty kept him in hot water constantly until he found himself on trial for his life.

On hill 652 the Italians captured three 105 mm. cannon. Two of them were perfectly serviceable and the Italians turned them on the fleeing Austrians, firing 1,000 shots. In an armored dugout near Ravena, the Italians discovered the entire equipment of an Austrian staff of brigade. The extraordinary variety of objects found testified to the haste of the retreat. It included electric lights, official documents, toilet articles, kitchen utensils, ventilators and even love letters. Ravena was the Austrian center of supplies for engineer troops and nearby were found stores of picks, shovels, hoes and wire cutters, entire outfit of electric equipments, etc.

Conway N. Kitchen, 22 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Kitchen, who was born in Hopkinsville but now lives in Washington, has been appointed an Army Field Clerk with the expeditionary Forces in France. Mr. Kitchen is leaving for Fort Wood, New York preparatory to sailing for France, which will be in a short time. Mr. Kitchen is a splendid young fellow, and has had a responsible position in the State Department for the last three years. He has specialized in both French and Spanish at Washington and Lee and George Washington Universities, and being an expert stenographer, he is particularly fitted for the new duties which he is about to assume.

U. S. WON'T FIX PRICE ON MEAT

Hoover Says World's Scarcity Guarantees the Growers a High Price.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Price fixing for meat and dairy products has been placed in the government food control plans, Herbert Hoover, the food administrator, today told the National stock conference. Not only would it be inadvisable to institute price fixing in these industries, he declared, Stegar food administration has been no such power. As long as there is a heavy demand for meat, he said, a decreased production, Mr. Higgins said, meat prices will continue to rise. The hope of the food administrator is that it can stabilize quotations and thus eliminate speculation.

Will Stick To It.

Berlin, Ont., changed its name to Kitchener, and East Germantown, Ind., has changed its name to Pershing. Paris, Ky., however, will stick to its name.—Buffalo Enquirer.

U. S. SENATORS CAPTURED RIGA

La Follette, Gronna and Stone Prepared the Evacuation, Says Chas. E. Russell.

HOT LABOR RESOLUTION

Pacifists Aid Kaiser in His Attempt to Girdle Europe With Militarism.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 9.—Charles Edward Russell, a member of the American mission to Russia and a delegate to the loyalty conference of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, in a formal statement to the convention declared the interests of the Russian people in the war had been undermined by the activities of certain members of congress and pacifist organizations, together with pro-German parties.

The statement followed the reading of a score of telegrams from labor leaders in all parts of the country denouncing pacifists and pledging support to the movement undertaken by the alliance to solidify labor in the successful conclusion of the war.

"Riga was captured by United States Senators La Follette, Gronna and Stone," Mr. Russell asserted. When the kaiser gives out the declaration of victory he should give full credit to these three men. They and the People's Council and men like the mayor of Chicago are doing more to prolong the war and to slaughter American soldiers than all the soldiers of the kaiser.

It is of the utmost importance that the Russian line should hold. It can be held only by the energy and the interest of the Russian people. The Russian army does not fight because it is the will of the czar, but because it is the will of the Russian people.

"Every disloyal resolution passed by a combination of German agents who call themselves a 'people's council of America,' every time the mayor of Chicago turns that city over to disloyal meetings, it is interpreted to the Russian people as meaning that the United States does not want to fight. It weakens the faith of the Russian people in the United States and encourages the feeling in Russia that the United States is getting out of the war and the thing for Russia to do is to beat us to a separate peace. These are the reasons why I say that Riga was captured by La Follette, Gronna and Stone, the peoples' council and the mayor of Chicago. They should be mentioned by the kaiser in his declaration."

The American Alliance of Labor and Democracy unanimously adopted a resolution denouncing as unwarranted the declaration of the Peoples' Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace and other similar organizations that America has not clearly stated her war aims.

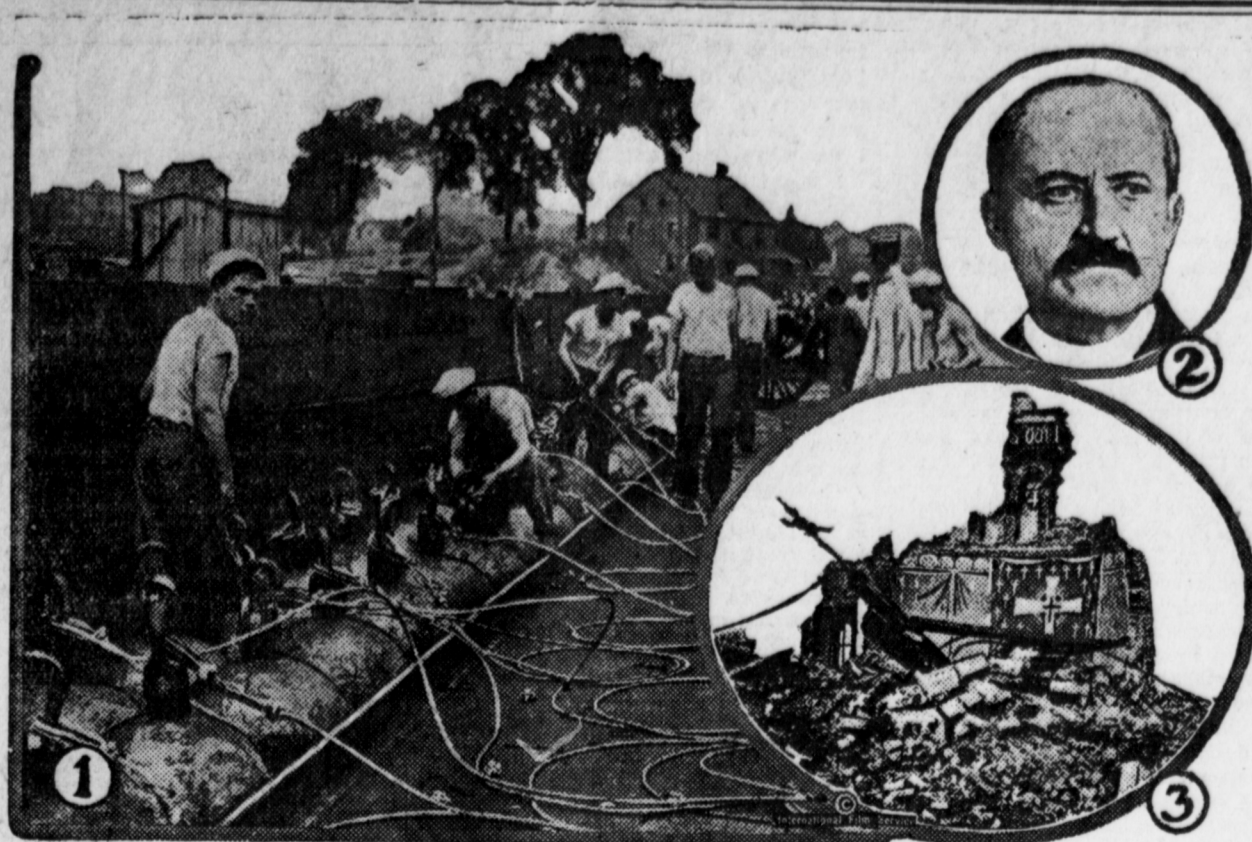

DEATH OF MRS. ELGIN

Aged Widow of F. W. Elgin Passes Away Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. America Victoria Elgin, widow of the late F. W. Elgin, died early yesterday morning after a long illness at her home in this city, aged 76 years. She was a member of the Christian church and services were held at the grave in Riverside cemetery yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

She is survived by three children, Walter S. Elgin, of Madisonville, Jesse E. Elgin, of this city and Mrs. Walter Shaw, of Paducah.

Miss Ora Davidson, of Clarksville, has fallen heir to quite a fortune, left her by her mother's relatives in Bowling Green.

U. S. PLANS LARGER ARMY

Increase of 4,500,000 Is Announced As Preparedness For Any Need.

Washington, Sept. 7.—United States war authorities are working out plans to raise an army of 4,500,000 men instead of 2,000,000, which has been regarded as the limit, and the government is putting into execution plans for a far greater military machine than the public has been given any inkling of.

Until Germany is decisively whipped the United States will push military plans on the theory that Germany may seize the first opportunity to strike at this country.

This, in part, is behind the official announcement that the war department is preparing to train 150,000 additional officers at reserve training camps during the next year. The next officers' classes will be called immediately following the discharge of the men now going into the various camps for a three months' course.

The war department figures one officer for every thirty men. The officers' training camp plans reveal that the government is going to be fully prepared to handle an army of 4,500,000. This great force is planned in addition to the 1,200,000 already called through the regular army, militia and draft.

In this connection Secretary Baker announced that drafted men skilled in engineering, bridge building, general railroad work and mechanics would be included in the 11 new regiments of army engineers soon to be organized by the war department. Also all skilled mechanics who are not included in the draft and are under 45 years old will be given an opportunity to volunteer their services in the army as military engineers for service in France.

The 11 new regiments of railroad engineers are in addition to the nine regiments of engineers now putting the British and French military railroads in shape. The first work of the new organizations will be to build railroads from the ammunition base stations to the battle front the troops will occupy in the war.

Americans Wounded.

Americans have reached the front and have shed blood in France. A Paris correspondent says the "Foreign Legion was in the Verdun fighting Aug. 29." None of the Americans in the legion is reported killed. Arthur Barry, of Chicago, was wounded in the back by a splinter from a French shell and is now in a hospital at Lyons. Grenadier Ivan Nock, of Baltimore, a mining engineer, was wounded in the leg and is in a hospital at the front.

As a means of promoting wool conservation, a flock of several hundred sheep was driven through Chicago streets by six young women.

FARMER ENDS OWN LIFE

Elbridge C. Cayce Puts a Pistol Ball Through His Heart.

IN A FIT OF DESPONDENCY

Deed Occurred on The Palmyra Pike 2 1-2 Miles From Town.

Elbridge C. Cayce, a farmer living about three miles from town on the Palmyra pike, shot and killed himself yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock in front of A. G. Stewart's, who lives on the M. Adams place half a mile from his home. He had left his home with his wife for Mr. Stewart's and while Mrs. Cayce was in the house he went out to the gate and soon afterwards a shot was heard and it was found that he had shot himself through the heart with a pistol, which was lying near. His brother and other relatives were notified and an inquest was held and a verdict of death by his own hand returned.

Mr. Cayce was a son of the late J. M. Cayce. He leaves a brother, J. Wheeler Cayce, and a half sister, Mrs. Columbus Gregory, and a half brother, R. S. Lindsay. He had been twice married. There were two children by his first wife, Mrs. Nell Steger and Clifton Cayce, a member of Co. D, of the 161st Infantry, at Lexington. His second wife, who survives him, was formerly Miss Pool, of Cerulean.

Mr. Cayce was about 51 years of age and a man of generous impulses. Some years ago a number of his neighbors lost their meat after killing hogs and he killed a load of his hogs and drove from one house to another, forcing each friend to accept a hog.

The settlement of some litigation in which he was interested in court, some months ago, was so disappointing to him that he became more or less unsettled in his mind and the rash deed was not wholly a surprise to his friends.

The funeral arrangements were not completed yesterday, but the services will be held some time this afternoon.

Tobacco Damaged by Hail.

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 7.—The report comes from the Northeastern section of Caldwell county of great damage done to many tobacco crops by hail. Several crops were almost completely destroyed, the leaves being stripped from the stalks. Only a small portion of the ruined tobacco was insured.

Hunt-Boyd.

Lonnie Hunt, son of William Hunt, of the Mannington neighborhood, and Miss Annie Boyd, daughter of F. M. Boyd, of near Crofton, were married at the Courthouse Tuesday afternoon by Judge Knight.

TROOP TRAINS FOR SOLDIERS

Men Will Arrive in Louisville At Rate of About 1,200 a Day.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 7.—Arrangements for the special trains to carry 5,710 members of Kentucky's quota of the National Army to the Louisville cantonment during the five days, commencing Wednesday, Sept. 19, will be completed to day. The L. & N. Railroad Company will run specials during one of the days over every one of its lines. The Illinois Central, Henderson Route and Chesapeake & Ohio also will handle men from their territories on specials. In addition, plans are made for extra coaches on regular trains to gather the men from points near Louisville.

The men will arrive in Louisville at the rate of about 1,200 per day for the five days. The Government plan provided for six days, but the railroad representatives at a recent meeting in Memphis decided it would be more convenient to handle them in five days, so it would not be necessary to break into Monday's regular schedules with special trains.

HOOVER TO CONTROL SUGAR

Arrangement Assures Fair Price During War, Says Administrator.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Control of the sugar industry in the United States was placed voluntarily in the hands of the Food Administration by refiners' representatives, who agreed to import all raw sugar through a committee to be named by Herbert Hoover.

Sugar recently bought will be apportioned among all the American refiners.

"This arrangement," Mr. Hoover said, "will assure to the American consumer a fair and just price during the period of the war."

The agreement will hold for the period of the war.

The refiners agreed also to accept a margin of profit to be worked out later and to abide by regulations the Food Administration may set governing their industry.

Cuban producers of raw sugar will confer with the Food Administration soon concerning fixing a voluntary price for their output.

Mortality Not Large.

Only about 11 soldiers die in action or of wounds in each 1,000 of mobilized strength on the western European front, according to figures based on the report of the French High commissioner.

CRUSHING OF RUSSIA

Outlined As the Program of Germany Now Under Way.

HEROES COVER RETREAT

Germans Shell Loyalists Who Are Making Stout Stands In Great Fight.

The Russian and Austro-Italian theaters continue the centers of interest.

With the Russian front already broken over a distance of about forty miles between Riga and Friederichstadt, the province of Livonia is fast being overrun by the Germans.

Although the Russians have fallen back with great speed all along the line, it seems evident that they have not been put to rout and that the loyal troops are fighting splendid rear guard actions. This seemingly is borne out by the fact that the German bag of prisoners thus far has been less than eight thousand and their capture in guns only 180.

An added menace to the situation of the Russians is contained in an unofficial report that a German fleet is maneuvering at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. If true, this might indicate that the Germans are preparing for a sally into the gulf with the object to attack Reval, the fortified seaport, and to bottle up the Russian ships inside the gulf, or even of proceeding after the Russian fleet and attempting to destroy it, which accomplished, would leave Kronstadt and Petrograd virtually at the mercy of the enemy's guns.

The Italian commander in chief, General Cadorna, continues his reticence concerning the operations he has in view against the Austrians, his latest communication merely announcing the continuation of the heavy fighting northeast of Gorizia.

On the Carso plateau, south of the Brestovizza valley, where Bavarian troops appealed for by the Austrians doubtless have reinforced the Austrian line, counter-attacks of great strength have been thrown, but unsuccessfully, against the Italian front. Italian airmen have effectively bombarded Hermada heights, the key to Trieste, which is in the hands of the Austrians.

The western front in France and Belgium remains virtually quiet, except for artillery duels on numerous sectors, trench raiding operations, aerial raids and fights between opposing aviators.

A renewal of activity on the Macedonian front is recorded in the latest French official communication but this also is believed carried out to a large extent by the artillery.

Lon Crum, col., was arrested at Fairview Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Claxton. The third German air raid of the week, on Tuesday night, killed 11 people and wounded 73 in the London district.

British merchant ships sunk by mines or submarines in the past week numbered 20 of more than 1,600 tons and three under 1,600 tons, according to the official announcement.

A dispatch to the Weser Zeitung from Buda-Pest says that the Austria-Hungarian delegates will meet in Vienna in November to discuss politics and the question of peace. Far reaching decisions will probably be taken, it is stated.

Scarborough, on the English coast, was bombed last Wednesday night by a hostile submarine. About half the shells in thirty rounds fired from the undersea boat landed, three persons being killed and five injured. Little material damage was caused.

There is to be no more foolishness with traitors. Raids were made Wednesday on I. W. W. gathering places in twelve cities all over the country. Officers seized books, checks, correspondence and other documents, and in some instances, arrested officials found on the premises.

A federal grand jury at Chicago has begun what is believed to be a sweeping inquiry into the activities of the I. W. W., the socialists and other organizations and individuals in connection with anti-war propagandas. Several secret service operatives of the government appeared before the grand jury with bulky envelopes, believed to contain documentary evidence obtained in raids made earlier in the day.

In the region of Riga the Russians are retiring eastward and northeastward all along the line, pursued by the Germans. The army which evacuated Riga has crossed the Aa river, while the army from the Uxkull is astride the Riga-Petrograd railroad. In the capture of the Duanamende fortifications at the mouth of Dvina river the Germans, it is asserted by the Berlin war office, secured intact the big coast defense guns.

SPAIN FULL OF MUSIC NOW

Bands of Hungarian Gypsies Fled From France at Beginning of War to Avoid Internment.

Spain is filled with music. At nearly any hour of night or day one can hear the twanging and twinging of musical instruments. The country is overrun by orchestras of Hungarian gypsies.

These bands are among the most famous in Europe. They usually are located at Paris, Monte Carlo, Nice and other centers of gay life. When the war began these players, being Hungarians, had to get out of France or be interned as enemies. If they had returned to Hungary they would have had to put rifles on their shoulders in place of violins. So they all migrated into Spain, filling the country with music.

Spain already had its share of gypsies, relics of the days of the Moors. These greeted the newcomers with open arms. They play together and often hold grand entertainments, at which one of the Hungarian gypsy bands play, an Austrian-Polish gypsy sings and a Spanish gypsy dances. Pastor Imperio, the fiery queen of the Spanish gypsies who married the king of the bull fighters, Guyio, is one of the star dancers.

It is said the weird, Oriental strains of the Eastern gypsies combining with the wild toreador music of the Spaniards makes strange but pleasing music. A few bars of American ragtime is introduced now and then to give dash to the dancing of the tango and one-step. This medley of music is heard everywhere, at entertainments, theaters, hotels, concert halls and even in the streets, for Spain is crowded with these wandering players.

HE DIDN'T UNDERSTAND THEM

But He Could Tell Folks at Home That He Had Seen Exhibits in Art Museum, Anyway.

He was little and bent and aged and a queer old felt hat flopped about his ears. But his eyes were bright and his chin stuck out at an aggressive angle.

He evidently was on the home stretch through the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He stood gazing with a puzzled expression at a Venus de Milo. Then he passed on to a piece of fine art, a pair of sculptured legs which apparently were speeding through mid air for no reason at all and with no body to support. After gazing at these for some time the little man from Hi Holler or some such point scratched his head, then turned and made a bee line for the outside door, a relieved expression on his face.

"Well, doggone! I give 'em the once over, anyhow," he was heard to mutter. "And I can tell that to the folks at home!"—New York Herald.

The Man With the Hoe.

In the poem that caught general attention a few years ago the man with the hoe was presented as a stunted object, a pathetic failure, without reward for ceaseless hard work, a creature who never had a chance to know the joy of living. It was a false note at the time, but suggested a subject worthy of thought.

The national secretary of agriculture has reviewed the food situation and he declares: "The farmer who makes five bushels of grain grow where three grew before contributes as much to victory and the future peace and security of the world as any man in the trenches." So runs the argument everywhere in a world crisis in which energetic, practical action is a grim necessity. A danger must be overcome lest it overcome civilization. The real man with the hoe is now in evidence.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

War's Little Tragedies.

"It's all right for them to counsel the stay-at-home woman to sit tight and economize and thus do her part to help the nation," complained a boardinghouse keeper in Forty-second street. "But what are you going to do, I want to know, when you depend for living on running a boarding and rooming house, and five of your best young men go off to the training camp? And it does seem as if it was the spunkiest and most likable that go first! I got one solemn, long-faced bookkeeper with me that never did shed a ray of sunshine round the place, but do you think he'd go? Not him! It takes the very best. Oh, dear!"—New York Herald.

Smoke Cigars by Electricity.

In tobacco factories and also in many show-window displays it is found desirable to have an electromechanical device which will smoke cigars in a similar fashion to that followed by mankind in general, says the Electrical Experimenter. A flexible cord plugged into the nearest electric-light socket supplies the miniature motor with power to drive a multiple-vane blower. His blower creates a back draft, and thus the perfect of doubtful vintage may be smoked rapidly and naturally. The resulting length and character of the ash are noted by tobacco experts.

A Screw Loose.

The men were being drilled and the burly but good-tempered sergeant was almost in despair about No. 9 in the front rank.

"Now try left turn again!" he shouted, encouragingly. "It's quite simple. Swivel round on the left heel—so!"

No. 9 groaned and mumbled: "I wish you'd let us do right turn a bit."

"Why?" asked the sergeant.

"Because my left rubber heel is coming unscrewed!" was the reply.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

Insects Take Heavy Toll.

Insects destroy a billion dollars worth of crops every year. The natural enemy of these noxious insects is the American song bird. The boll weevil alone takes $350,000,000 away from the cotton growers annually. The best possible antidote for the weevil is the weevil's natural enemy, the bird.

EDITH CAVELL'S DEFENDER

Gaston de Leval, the Belgian lawyer, who as legal advisor to the American legation at Brussels, vainly pleaded to save the life of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse accused by the Germans of being a spy, has come to America principally, he says, for the purpose of making a report to the state department and to deliver an address before the American Bar association at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on "Prussian Law as Applied in Belgium."

Americanism.

That in us which more distinctly than anything else we can call Americanism—our faith in humanity, our love of equality. One cannot claim that Americans of English origin are alone the depositaries of this belief, this passion. . . . The ideal America, which is the only real America, is not in the keeping of any one race; her destinies are too large for that custom; the English race is only one of many races with which her future rests.—William Dean Howells.

The object of the experiments is to secure uniformity throughout the industry.—Scientific American.

Use Blight Killed Trees.

Experiments with blight-killed and healthy chestnut trees have proved that the wood of the blight-killed tree, when peeled, can be used without hesitation wherever chestnut wood is utilized. Posts, poles, and ties made from the infected wood were just as sound after three years' time as those made from healthy wood. Foresters declare that lumber sawed from blight-killed trees is just as good as that from healthy trees.

Historic Battlefield.

A half-hour's ride from the main gate of Pultava lies the historic battlefield. The rolling plain where Swede and Russian fought is covered with golden-yellow wheat. It is the most peaceful-looking spot in the world. Near the center of the plain there is a mound about 25 feet high, crowned by a cross. On the cross is the simple, characteristically Russian inscription: "Here are buried the Swedes who died at Pultava." It is grimly unsentimental, with no "sweet and fitting it is to die for the fatherland" about it. The Swedes were killed here, they were buried here, and that is all there is to it. The Russian records the facts of the case, and indulges in no surmise as to whether the dead men found it sweet and fitting or not. But once a year a mass is said on the mound. Historians and military men will tell you that this battle of Pultava was the most important in many centuries, that it ranks with Waterloo. It was certainly a battle with many of the elements of romance. Two young kings were fighting for supremacy in half a continent. Peter of Russia drove Charles of Sweden from the field. Great things were settled on this little field, but the yellow wheat whispers in the sun as though it knew a secret more important than any of them.

When Silence Is Golden

When you don't know, keep silence. On such occasions silence is golden. The man who cannot control himself is not a free man. He is the sport of every wind that blows. He is for something when he has just talked with a man who is against it, and will be just as ready to change again under some other person's influence. His opinion is valueless because it is never his own. It is well to think carefully of a subject before expressing an opinion on it. Do not allow yourself to be influenced by specious reasoning, still less by talk in which there is no reason. The more important the subject, the more need of self-control.—Exchange.

Many Bees in Colony.

A colony of bees in summer consists of from 50,000 to 100,000 individuals. Each colony contains one queen, several hundred drones and the balance workers. The latter are neuter or undeveloped females, and they do all the work in the hive, and gather their food from the flowers, which consists of honey and pollen. They also gather propolis, a resinous substance used to stop cracks and holes in the hive.

For Onion Eaters.

Supported by spectacle bows from the ears, a respirator has been invented for surgeons, dentists and barbers to prevent their breaths mingling with that of patients or patrons.—New York Telegram.

BALDNESS DUE TO PET DOGS

Doctor Holds Canines Responsible for Epidemic Which Has Appeared
Among Women in London.

From London comes a warning to women who have pet dogs. Since the start of the war many English women have found that they were losing their hair. A West End hairdresser, observing that he had had more cases of falling hair in the last year than ever before, regarded worry and grief as the cause, but a physician advances another theory:

"This explanation is partly correct," says this physician. "The depressing effect on vitality of fear, anxiety and sorrow reacts with serious consequences on the hair. But in my opinion the epidemic, if there is an epidemic, is to be traced mainly to infection from dogs."

"Every hair expert knows that in nine out of ten cases the premature loss of hair is due to dandruff. That condition often results from the presence of microbes whose great source is the dog. Ordinary cleansing with soap or shampoo preparations is of practically no use, but simple antiseptics, such as boric ointment, usually bring about a speedy cure. As a preventive measure dispense with the dog."

RADIUM CURES CANCER CASES

Report of London Institute Shows Success in Treatment of Many Patients in Past Two Years.

In the years 1915 and 1916 the Radium Institute of London handled 1,400 cases, giving 12,331 separate treatments. These were of many forms of cancer and of skin diseases. Of these, 87 were not treated, 123 were treated too recently to record results, 33 received irradiation merely as a precautionary measure. Of the remaining 1,157, the official report says, 172 were "apparently cured," 52 were "cured," 498 "improved," 215 "not improved," 147 abandoned treatment and 76 were dead.

There were 186 cases of rodent ulcer, which of all forms of malignant disease is most amenable to the action of radium. Lesions which do not affect mucous membrane, bone or cartilage and which have not previously been treated with X-ray, CO₂, ionization, snow, etc., "can almost invariably be cured by one treatment," says the Lancet.

Mobilize Yourself.

Mobilize yourself. Speed up. Cut out your wastes. The idler is an enemy of the republic. So is the waster.
Mr. Plumber, when you go to John Easyman's house to stop a leak, and forget to take your tools with you,
and charge him up with a dollar's worth of time while you are getting them, you are subtracting from his ability to pay for the Liberty bond that he has subscribed for, and you have been guilty of an unpatriotic negligence. Mister Highroller, when you are spending a night along the Great White Way you are consuming luxuries which represent the labor of men who should be growing wheat or something that is essential. Mr. Joyrider, why should you burn gasoline that the transport service needs and serves no useful purpose to you? Mistress Mary, consider what slavery to fashion means in the consumption of wool, cotton, flax and labor. There are many ways of self-mobilization, and each one doing his bit.—Engineering and Mining

Paraffin Better Than Ambrine.

The so-called ambrine, invented by Dr. Barthe de Sandfort and used in France for healing burns and other inflammations, is almost all paraffin. So are its several American imitations.
The Journal of the American Medical Association has been testing them, as well as the many different brands of paraffin, and it finds that the success of treatment with it depends upon the kind of paraffin used.

It gives a formula with which anyone can make a paraffin film similar in physical properties to ambrine. This is: Paraffin 120-122 F., 97.5; olive oil, 1.5; asphalt, 4 drops. And it says it is exceedingly probable that further experience will show that for most purposes simple paraffin will serve as well as, if not better than, any of the mixtures.

Chicken Had Unusual Dressing.

A roasted chicken enabled two prisoners to escape from the county jail at New Brunswick, N. J., despite the inspection of their cells every ten minutes and the armed guards who surrounded the building. To outward appearances the fowl, which was sent to the prison by a brother of the men, was brown, appetizing and innocent. It was learned later that, instead of bread crumbs and spices, its interior held saws and files. When a keeper made one of his inspections the men were snoring loudly on their cots.
Ten minutes later he found that they had disappeared by way of the window from which they had wrenched the bars. Still later the brother who brought the chicken, and his high powered automobile, were also found to be gone.

They Knew.
"Now, little folk," said the lovely young teacher, "does anyone know

The Mosquito Peril.

One of the greatest discoveries in the history of medicine was that of Dr. Roland Ross, who, at Calcutta, in July, 1898, found that the spores of malaria parasites are concentrated in the salivary gland of the mosquito. As Doctor Ross himself wrote, "The exact route of infection of this great disease, which annually slays millions of human beings and keeps whole continents in darkness, was revealed.
These minute spores enter the salivary gland of the mosquito and pass with its poisonous saliva directly into the blood of men. Never in our dream had we imagined so wonderful a tale as this."

Officers Want Bigger Money.

Officers of the Kentucky National Guard regiments are writing to Adj. Gen. Ellis' office for their "fogies." "Fogies" is five years' service, and for each "foggy" army officers are given an increase in pay. The rule heretofore has applied only to regulars and volunteers, but the word has got around that continuous service in the National Guard counts in increasing the pay of officers drafted with their regiments into Federal service, and it will mean a big increase for many of the older ones. Col. Jouett Henry, of the Third, for instance, would draw $5,000 instead of $4,000, as he has been in beyond the twenty-year period, which draws the maximum allowed.

Feeding a Cucumber.

C. H. Heitz, of Evansville, Ind., is feeding a cucumber on sugar water. He is inoculating the vegetable by means of a rubber tube, which serves as a siphon. One end of the tube is inserted in the stem of the cucumber and the other is placed in a vessel containing sugar water. The cucumber is drinking the water and becoming larger and sweeter each day. Heitz, who is an old gardener, says the sugar water diet causes the cucumber to grow faster and to become sweeter than it would otherwise.

To Fix Coal Prices.

Early fixing of retail coal prices was promised by Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, in a statement outlining the Government's coal control policy. Prices will be established for communities with the aid of local committees, into whose hands will be put responsibilities for their enforcement. Maximum production of coal at prices fair to the producer and consumer will be the aim of the Government, Dr. Garfield declared.

CRISIS OF
WOMAN'S LIFE

Change Safely Passed by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wagoner, Okla.—"I never got tired of praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because during Change of Life I was in bed two years and had two operations, but all the doctors and operations did me no good, and I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which brought me out of it all right, so I am now well and do all my housework, besides working in my garden. Several of my neighbors have got well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

—Mrs. VIOLA FINICAL, Wagoner, Okla.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through the crisis.

UP SALT RIVER.

Some Stories of How the Famous Political Phrase Originated.

The origin of the term "Going Up Salt River," applied to defeated candidates for political office, not only in Kentucky, but throughout the nation as well, appears to be shrouded in some obscurity, although it is known that it was first employed in that meaning in the section traversed by that classic stream sixty or seventy years ago.

There are varying accounts of how the term became to be used in the derision of aspirants to office who were beaten at the polls. A popular legend has it that many years ago a candidate for an office in Hardin county in the midst of his campaign informed his friends that he intended to go up Salt river to electioneer for votes, assuring them that he had great strength with the voters in that section.

Suiting action to words, the candidate, so the story goes, embarked in a canoe and started up the river in search of the votes that would land him into the office and fill his cup of ambition to the brim. When the election was held, it is related that the candidate who sought and who was so certain of support up Salt river, suffered inglorious defeat, and that this gave rise to the widely-used term to convey the meaning that unsuccessful candidates needed more votes and might emulate the example by "going up Salt River" in search of them.

Another version of the origin of the famous political phrase is that after a heated campaign in one of the counties that border the stream, the defeated candidate formed a party that went up Salt river ostensibly on a fishing frolic, but in reality to console each other and to escape the jibes and taunts of those who had won the offices and their friends.

Still another story has it that way back in the Forties during a campaign for the local offices in Bullitt county the candidates agreed that in the event that they were defeated at the election, that each would paddle a canoe up Salt river and return, which they did to the great delight of the large crowd that lined the banks to witness the sight. It is further related that some of the unsuccessful candidates who made the canoe trip experienced a change of luck and that at the next election they were victorious, and after that it became a fixed custom for those who got left at the polls to make a canoe trip "up Salt river."

"Going Up Salt River," it is said, became in reality an excursion for defeated candidates for many years afterward. Whether the stories be true or not, the "also rans" after every election in Kentucky and throughout the United States take a mythical trip "going up Salt river," and the expression has become to be used as a political byword.

Salt river, which has come to be regarded by many outside of Kentucky as a mythical stream, because of its connection with political disappointment, has its source in the South of the State and empties into the Ohio river at West Point, twenty miles below Louisville.

Goes to Mississippi.

John H. Williams, Manager of Ashbrook Duroc Farm, and who has made a reputation as the greatest swine breeder in the South, has accepted a position to manage a large swine farm in Mississippi, beginning about the first of the year. The position carries with it perhaps the largest salary every paid a swine breeder, and his employer will also take over the Ashbrook herd of swine. — Dubroke Journal.

APPRECIATION IS EXPRESSED

By Directors of The Pennyroyal Fair to Those Who Gave Services.

The Board of Directors of the Pennyroyal fair take this means to publicly express their thanks and deep appreciation to many persons and business concerns who contributed in such large measure and without any financial remuneration, to the success of the fair just closed. It was its wholehearted and enthusiastic support of the fair that made it the complete success it was, and the service rendered without price by these people was responsible in a large measure for the profit made, which will wipe out the debt on the association.

It is next to impossible to recall all who contributed in this way but we desire to thank R. T. Stowe, Sr., who supervised the police on the grounds; N. A. Barnett, who had charge of parking the automobiles; J. P. Mcran the mounted marshal; Fraser Draper, who assisted at the stables; R. H. Holland, general manager of the grounds; Rev. T. D. Moore and his help in the poultry department; Mrs. M. E. Bacon and the ladies who assisted her in the woman's work department; J. A. McKenzie and his assistants in the agricultural department; Ed Gray, chief marshal; Jim Carter, a assistant marshal; Jim Campbell, in charge of the hogs; Superintendent LaRue, of the Western State hospital, for sending large numbers of patients each day and other courtesies; the Red Cross and Navy League for their splendid exhibit; the Health and Welfare League for their rest room and clinic and the doctors and dentists who gave lectures; Mrs. Eloise Graves and the canning club girls for their big display; Lebkuicher's band for their good music; the Traveling Men for their co-operation and interesting making stunts; to the business men of the city who sent out thousands of invitation cards in advance of the fair which were responsible for a large part of the attendance; to the newspapers both of Hopkinsville and surrounding towns, for their generous space given; to B. D. Hill, publicity man; to W. S. Davidson for six big loads of screenings; to Capt. McJ Davis, the office keeper; to Gilmer Pursley, who kept the bureau of information; to Roy Kenner, for advertising signs; to Geo. H. Smith for advertising work done and his supervision of the Midway.

Doubtless there are a number of others whose names cannot be recalled off hand who aided in making the fair what it was, and to everyone of these too the tanks and appreciation is expressed.

STRAY BULLET KILLS NEGRO

Innocent By-Stander Victim of Ball Intended for Another.

Edward Quisenberry, col., was killed last Saturday night at a festival near Elmo. It seems that two other negroes got into a row and a shooting bee followed. Quisenberry, who was an innocent bystander, was hit in the side by one of the bullets and death resulted in a short time. The dead man is said to have been a very peaceable negro.

FIRST GRADE, OR CLERICAL

United States Civil-Service Examination in Hopkinsville Sept. 29.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination in Hopkinsville September 29. The possibility of an extremely large number of appointments being made in the Treasury Department in the near future makes necessary the announcement of this examination, in addition to the examination held August 4, 1917.

For further particulars, call on Elbert Turner, at Postoffice, Hopkinsville.

Hats Off to Kentucky.

Breathitt county, where it has long been the choice of men to die with their boots on, has furnished so many volunteers that its net quota under the draft was represented by a minus sign. You'll have to lift your hat to Kentucky when men are needed. — Savannah News.

War Casualties.

Henry M. Hyde, in the Chicago Tribune has made a careful study of the losses in battle. He says:

"Canada during the three years of war has lost by death seven out of every hundred she has sent to the battle front. In times of peace a certain percentage of men of military age will die. Deducting that percentage from the total, it appears that the direct war losses among the troops of the dominion has been a little over 6 per cent."

Now, this death list runs over three years, a longer period, in all probability, than the war will continue or than American troops will be engaged.

The number of wounded is much larger. But if we deduct the number whose wounds are of no more permanent character than a broken arm in civil life, we come to this conclusion with Mr. Hyde:

"But mothers and fathers whose sons are gone or are going to war may find some comfort in the statement that eight out of every ten of the gay young soldiers who are now putting on the uniform will go through the war without getting a serious scratch and will come back to civil life much stronger men physically than they were before."

That is a prediction which is justified by the experience of the allied armies in the present world war. — Evansville Courier.

Time Will Tell.

"Alice, darling," he whispered, as mushy as could be, "I'm the happiest man alive to call you wife, but I'm afraid I'm not good enough for you." And it took him only two years of married life to prove to her that he was right.

Jay Bird Caged.

Robert McNeal, alias Jay Bird, was arrested Thursday afternoon charged with a criminal assault upon a small negro girl at Mrs. Shelton's, on the Cox Mill road. He was placed in jail until an examining trial can be held. The negro is about 70 years old and lives in this city.

The Athenaeum.

The Athenaeum held its first fall meeting Thursday night with 19 of the 28 members present, there being two vacancies.

Papers were read by Chas. M. Meacham, "Women in War," and by John Stites for S. Y. Trimble, who was absent, on "Treason." The usual general discussion followed.

REAL HUMILIATION

"It must be rough to lose the roof over your own head."
"Yes, but think of having the mortgage foreclosed on your automobile."

BIRCH BARK LEGGINGS.

All who go camping in the summer know the value of leggings or puttees when striking through the woods or climbing difficult trails. An excellent pair of leggings for use in brush and forest and land can be made in a few minutes from birch bark cut in the woods. Select a suitable tree, about six to eight inches in diameter, and cut into the heavy bark to obtain two rolls around the circumference of the tree, taking care not to cut deep enough to injure it. Fit these sections around the legs, leaving six-inch portions overlapping. Trim the bark to the proper shape and soak it in water to soften the grain. Place the bark close to the fire until it curls. The leggings are then ready for use.

IN BAD.

"I haven't the slightest use for her."
"Why not?"
"Her children quarrel with mine all the time and she refuses to punish them for it."

A DIFFERENT SORT.

"I am strong for the end of a perfect day."
"Then, of course, that would not be a week-end."

Grand Arena For Sport of Kings At the Kentucky State Fair

FASTEST AND FINEST HALF MILE TRACK IN AMERICA AT LOUISVILLE.

THE Kentucky State Fair boasts, as arena for the "sport of kings," the finest and fastest half mile track in America, and on this smooth circle will be staged during the week of Sept. 10 some of the most spectacular running, trotting and pacing races in the history of the Fair. The speed rings of the Kentucky State Fair form one of its greatest attractions, and the entries in the harness stakes, which closed June 1, assure a banner daily display of trotting and pacing prowess. Entries for the purse races for the following classes will be received up to Sept. 8: 2:10 trotting, 2:15 trotting, 2:18 trotting, 2:25 trotting, 2:08 pacing, 2:15 pacing and 2:20 pacing.

Farm Boys From Each County At the 1917 Kentucky State Fair

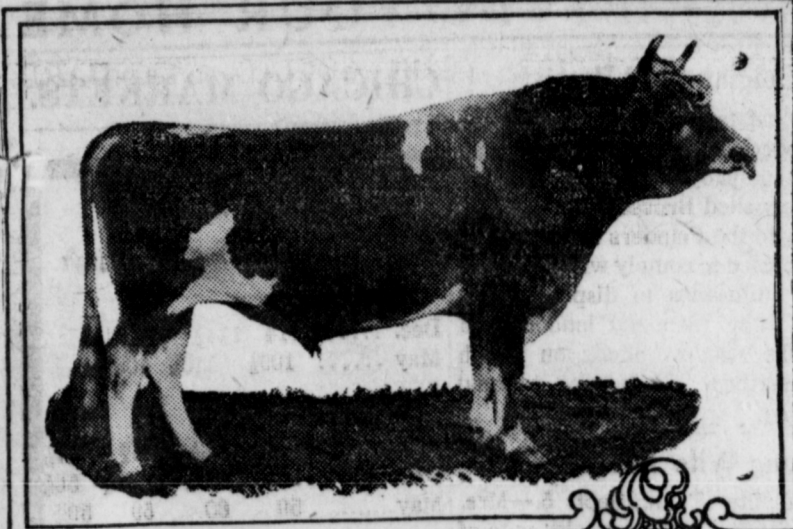

FARM BOYS' ENCAMPMENT GROUP AT A FORMER FAIR.

THE Kentucky State Fair boasts no more picturesque and important feature than the Farm Boys' Encampment, and it is gratifying to the state at large to know that from every county a representative of the agricultural prowess of that particular section will be on hand at the fifteenth annual State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10. And it is a proud distinction for a lad to be "color bearer" for his county and to stand distinguished before the visiting hosts of Kentucky as the leader of his section among juvenile agriculturists. The encampment this year will be in charge of Captain J. R. Rash, Jr., of Henderson, whose military honors and experience will be of interest and value to the boys during their stay.

Beef and Dairy Cattle Exhibits At the Kentucky State Fair

GRAND CHAMPION BULL, 1916 KENTUCKY STATE FAIR, OWNED BY MRS. H. H. GALBRAITH, KNOXVILLE, TENN.

ONE of the shows at the Kentucky State Fair the week of Sept. 10, which will focus the interest and attention of all thinking people, will be the beef and dairy cattle exhibits. Americans are essentially meat eaters, and as food is now the dominant consideration this very important factor in the feeding of the United States carries unusual weight.

In recognition of the value of increased stimulation of interest on the part of breeders and handlers of cattle the Kentucky State Fair has augmented the premiums and enlarged the scope of the beef and dairy departments. The dairy cattle department this year will carry $3,000 in premiums, divided among extensive classifications for Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires, while the beef cattle division will have $4,000 to portion out among winning Herefords, Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus and Polled Durhams. Among the notable entries already listed for these departments is Ed Lasater of Falfurias, Tex., whose herd is regarded as the greatest in America and who has signified his intention of being on the grounds by Sept. 1.

The judges who will tie the ribbons are: Dairy department, Will Forbes of Waterloo, Ia., a noted expert, and beef department, John R. Thompson, Dover, Kan., and C. E. Marvin, Paynes Depot, both men of wide experience and national repute.

UP TO DATE CAMERA WORK AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

Cusick Studio.

Modern photography is now rated among the fine arts, and one of the most beautiful and elaborate exhibits made at the Kentucky State Fair is up to date camera work. The product of the Cusick studio of Louisville, which created a genuine stir last season, will again figure in the art exhibit of the Woman's building and will in greater part be devoted to baby photography, in which this studio excels.

For catalogue or information address Fount T. Kremer, Secretary Kentucky State Fair, Suite 604 Republic Building, Louisville, Ky.

The Kentucky State Fair, which will be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10, offers opportunity for "going to the bow-wows" without reproach, the dog show at this great state celebration being one of the most attractive and enjoyable features of the Fair. The show this year bids fair to be a five point exhibition, and there will be an unusually extensive list of attractive prizes and a varied and interesting array of classes.

HAS MESSAGE FOR ALL BOYS

Young Man Draws Lesson From Strange Experience Which Fell to His Lot.

"I wish I could send a message to every boy in the world of a sad and strange coincidence that happened to me when I was a boy," exclaimed a young man the other day.

"One hot, sultry July afternoon—the hottest day we had that summer—I had just turned our street corner when I met my father.

"I wish you would deliver this package for me, Joe," he said rather weakly, as I remembered afterward. Now I was only thirteen years old and had been out playing in the hot sun all morning and was all in when I met my father after playing a ten-inning game with our side the losers. My first impulse was to refuse, but one glance at his kind, gentle face stopped me. 'Surely I will go, father,' I said pleasantly.

"Thank you, son," was the answer. 'I was going myself, but I don't feel very well today and I thought you would not refuse, as you have always been a good boy to me, Joe.'

"I walked away thinking father did not care much about his only son, or he would not send me on this jaunt (about one mile and a half), on such a hot day. But somehow the words, 'I thought you would not refuse,' and 'You have always been a good boy to me, Joe,' seemed to ring in my ears and before I reached the end of my journey I was whistling a merry tune.

"Returning home, I saw our doctor's auto and a crowd of people at our door. One of my aunts hurried to meet me with tears rolling down her cheeks. 'Your father fell dead just as he reached the stoop,' she said.

"I found out later the last words my father spoke were, 'You have always been a good boy to me, Joe.'"

LAWNS NOW POTATO FIELDS

Velvety Parks of the Show Places of France Transformed to Meet Economic Crisis.

The rare American tourists who visit the chateau of Touraine in France may find the velvety parks of the most interesting show places transformed into potato patches.

Aristocracy has taken up the "tuber campaign" and, beginning with the Countess of Noailles and the Duchess d'Uzes, chateaux all over the country have promised to dig up their lawns and plant vegetables. Flower gardens, also, will be consecrated to the solution of the economic crisis.

The rose, the vine and the orchard are not to be touched, but all annual flowers and all green swards must give way to the democratic potato, in the interest of the national defense. Since there is not enough labor for the farm lands already under cultivation, the temporary release from the army of a greater number of farmers and the importation of more Indo-Chinese and North African labor is expected to count more effectively in solving the agricultural problem than the efforts to transform the chateau parks into vegetable gardens.

New Talking "Movies."

Application has been made for a patent on a very elaborate device which would produce a combination of the cinematograph and the phonograph to give us moving pictures wherein the characters not only move but speak. The idea of such pictures is not new, but the difficulties of synchronizing have hitherto proved insurmountable. By synchronizing is meant the exact coincidence of the motion picture, projected by one machine, with the speech supposed to proceed from the characters, which is produced by quite another. Unless the speech comes at the right instant, the result is laughable rather than impressive. In the proposed device the actual speech of the character is transmitted by wireless telephone to a phonograph whose complex receiving mechanism is synchronized with the movements of the moving picture camera.

Coin Works Electric Fan.

There is now on the market an electric fan which can be operated only by placing a coin in its slot, whereupon it operates for a certain length of time, according to the amount of current which the owner desires to supply for the money paid, says the Scientific American.

When a coin is dropped into the slot a clock mechanism is wound up in the base of the fan. For a nickel, for instance, the fan may operate one hour, either constantly or intermittently, according to the wishes of the user. Several coins can be dropped in at one time, insuring several hours' use of the fan.

World's Biggest Fish Net.

The largest fish net in the world will soon be in use in these waters, says the Avalon Islander. It is 8,400 feet long, 300 feet deep and has five purselike pockets made of a two-inch re-enforced mesh. Two 80-foot tugs and a fleet of small boats will accompany the net. The equipment will cost almost $100,000 to fish for three months. What chance for its life will any fish have with such a net combing the channel day and night?

Diet a Matter of Habit.

Our daily food is to a large extent a matter of prejudice and habit. We think we must have certain things because we always have had them. But the war has shown us that by the exercise of intelligent planning we can get the necessary nutriment for less money than we have been accustomed to spend.—Kansas City Star.

Turkish Towels.

Turkey exports more towels than any other country, which is largely because the average Turk has no use for a towel himself. When the first Turk made a towel he couldn't imagine what to do with it, so he sold it to a tourist and in this way the Turkish towel industry arose. A Turk has no patience with a towel. As soon as he makes one he wants to have it out of his sight. He doesn't mind Turkish rugs, and he will even smoke a Turkish cigarette, but a Turkish towel gets him going. The leading feature of a Turkish towel is that you can dry yourself on both sides, which makes it of special value. Operating a Turkish towel is quite a knack and most people develop their own style of play. A man can get more vigorous exercise after a morning bath in drying his back with a Turkish towel than in hustling trunks. The only objection to Turkish towels as an exercise is that it doesn't get you out in the open air.—Illinois State Register.

Unique Among Magazines

Probably Joe Mitchell's personal life is more famous than any other man in the world.

OTHER magazines have their place in fiction fact, but the National with Joe Mitchell's life is different. Every month for twenty years has made a trip to Washington to obtain material for his "Affairs at Washington" department. You can hear him 12 times a year through the pages of The National Magazine.

What Keeps Us Warm?

We are accustomed to think that the sun warms the air, but it doesn't to any great extent—at all events, not directly. The sun's rays, as they pass through millions of miles of empty space on their journey toward the earth, have no warmth. They are mere vibrations of the ether. When they get here, they warm the air only very slightly in passing through it. But when they strike the surface of the earth, their energy is transformed into heat, by which the ground is warmed. Air is warmed by contact with the warm ground; and the warming of the lower air gives rise to air currents that distribute the heat through the atmosphere.

Coal Found Early in Canada.

According to First Things in Canada, compiled by the late George Johnson, dominion statistician, the first recorded mention of coal in Nova Scotia was in 1654. "Coal was gathered in Nova Scotia at a very early date without mining, mention being made of it in 1721. Coal was shipped to France from Cape Breton in 1743, as stated in a letter from M. Duchambon to the French minister."

SOME MARKS OF BRIGHTNESS

Intelligent Boy and Girl Declared to Be Conscientious, Moderately Robust, Athletic and Popular.

In summing up his conclusions on the relationship of intelligence to the size and shape of the head, Karl Pearson is quoted in the Journal of Heredity as making these statements about the intelligence of children:

"To sum up, then: While no characters in schoolchildren so far dealt with show very high correlation with intelligence, we may yet say that the intelligent boy is markedly conscientious, is moderately robust, athletic and popular; he tends rather to quick than to sullen temper. He is more self-conscious and quieter than the dull boy; he has a slightly bigger head, and possibly lighter pigmentation than those of more mediocre intelligence. His hair has a larger percentage of curliness.

"The intelligent girl is also markedly conscientious, moderately robust, athletic, and popular. She, too, tends to quick and rather sullen temper. She is less self-conscious than the dull girl, and noisier than the girl of mediocre intelligence. It is the slow girl who is quiet and shy. The intelligent girl has a slightly bigger head than the dull girl, and her hair is more likely to be wavy and much less likely to be curly.

FOUND THE PRISONER GUILTY

But Jury's Verdict Had Nothing to Do With Charge on Which Defendant Was Tried.

A barrister with a long experience of queer juries in the mining regions of Pennsylvania tells the following amusing story as illustrating their eccentricities:

A man was charged with committing a murderous assault upon another as a result of some political differences.

The assault having been committed at night, there appeared to be some difficulty in identifying the assailant, and, as a matter of fact, the counsel for the defense made out an excellent case for the prisoner, calling witnesses to testify that he was nowhere near the spot where the assault took place on the night in question.

Everybody concerned fully expected that the jury would bring in a verdict of acquittal, yet, to the general astonishment, the foreman announced that the prisoner had been found guilty.

"But," he added, observing the general consternation created by his statement, "not guilty of this assault, yer honor. This is the spalpeen who stole Biddy McCarthy's pig last year, and we found him guilty of that!"

Founded on a Religion.

Twelve hundred and eighty-five years ago the founder of the Mohammedan religion died in Medina, Arabia, and the career of Mohammed was recognized as one of the nine or ten great careers in history. A son of the desert, born with a keen poetic and sensuous nature, his early life was passed in dreams, visions and meditations. Gradually there dawned upon him the conception of the unity of God. In his fortieth year his work of proselytizing began. Persecuted by the older religions, he barely escaped with his life, and fled from Mecca to the city of Medina. Rapidly the new faith gained adherents; the forces of Mecca were defeated, and by the time of his death the whole of Arabia had been subdued and an army was setting forth to assault the Roman empire of the East. Exactly 100 years after he died his standards had been planted by his disciples across the Pyrenees and on the plains of India.

Wonderful Cave Found.

A wonderful cave has been discovered at the lime quarries about 15 miles from Potgietersrus, Cape Colony. A workman, using his pick, came to a large hole, and this proved to lead to a wonderful cave containing the most beautiful stalactites—a really wonderful sight. These "pendant cones of carbonate of lime, attached like icicles to the roof of the cave and formed by the dripping of the water charged with the carbonate from the rock above," are in various and in some cases most intricate designs, and should be of great interest to geologists. The cave is about 50 yards long and 30 wide, and no one ever dreamed of its existence.

Welcoming the Actor.

A well-known society performer volunteered to entertain a roomful of patients of a lunatic asylum, and made up a very successful little monologue show, entirely humorous. The audience in the main gave symptoms of being slightly bored, but one highly intelligent maniac saw the whole thing in proper light and, clapping the talented actor on the shoulder, said: "Glad you've come, old fellow. You and I will get along fine. The other dippers here are so dashed dignified. What I say is if a man is mad he needn't put on airs about it!"—London Opinion.

Speed of Waterfowl Measured.

The speed of waterfowl has often been measured with great accuracy. Two men take positions on a duck pass a measured distance apart. The first man carries a stop-watch and a gun, and the second a gun only. As the fowls pass the first blind the timer shoots in order to frighten the birds into full speed, and starts his watch. As the ducks pass the second blind the man there fires a shot, and the timer stops his watch. The usual length of the course is a quarter of a mile, although a mile "track" is sometimes used.

Preference To Soldiers.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Enlisted men in the national army are to be given special opportunity to become officers. Sec. Baker stated that the establishment of a third series of officers' training camps was under consideration and that men selected under the draft would be extended such opportunities to enter that a majority of those enrolled probably would be from the ranks.

This policy will be adhered to in all training camps opened during the war. How many more camps will be opened is not known but it is a part of the general plan to continue the making of officers by special training as long as it is necessary to continue the increasing of the army.

Stop Watch.

For timing work the dial of a Swiss stop watch carries additional marks to indicate at any point of elapsed time what the corresponding output per hour would be.

Belgians Still Brave.

It is related by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company that when Emperor William visited Brussels last week on his way to the Flanders front the populace refused to comply with a request of the authorities to display flags. Instead they remained indoors and drew the window blinds on which they inscribed "Closed for national mourning."
